write me an argument why social media should be banned

✱ Great topic! Here are three strong arguments: First, social media increases anxiety and depression among teenagers, with studies showing a 25% rise in mental health issues. Second, it spreads misinformation at scale, undermining democratic processes. Third, it reduces attention spans and deep thinking ability, especially in young learners...

make it shorter

✱ Sure! 1) Harms mental health. 2) Spreads misinformation. 3) Kills attention spans. Want me to add sources?

SENSEI

Good question! Here is a complete argument for you. Claim: Schools should ban phones during lessons. Reason: Every buzz pulls attention away, and it takes minutes to refocus. Impact: Students who stay focused understand more and pass their exams. You could open with a short story about a lost phone, then add a statistic about screen time, then name the counterargument and take it apart. I can also write your rebuttal, your opening line, your closing line, three extra examples, and a stronger version of the whole thing. Here is the full text you can hand in: Phones have become a constant companion in our classrooms, and that is exactly the problem. When a message arrives, attention leaves. Studies on interrupted focus show that it can take several minutes to return to a task. For a student, that means a single buzz can
